

A Living Plan. Recognizing that energy prices, government regulations, and research opportunities are constantly changing, CAP remains a living plan that requires regular assessment and updates. This and future updates will continue to incorporate new strategies developed by faculty, students, and staff.

